5 Director's Comments and Items of Information

Bill Kovach, Director

-eLearning has been going very well. We finish the semester tomorrow, May 15th. Teachers and students have become very adept at using Canvas as their learning management system. With the support of Mike Quaranta and Eddie Small, the teachers have taken the situation and made it work well for the students to complete the semester and also earn certifications and college credits.

-We plan on allowing staff to come on campus this next week to complete the process of getting their rooms and labs ready for summer. We will have a sign-up sheet (virtual) to continue social distancing. We will also have a plan for allowing students to return items as well as pick up any of their property from school soon.

-We are still in the process of getting a final date for the closing of the construction trades house. I will share as soon as we know.

-Due to our current state with COVID-19 our addition of aviation flight will have to be delayed one year to start fall of 2021.
