

Adult Education Division

Prepared by: Michelle Davis, Adult Education Director

This Month's Highlights

The Central Nine Career Center Adult Education Division has re-established a partnership with the WorkOne in Franklin and will be opening a GED class in April. It will run on Monday and Wednesday evenings. Along with this class as a partnership, C9's new Outreach Coordinator, Nicole Corn, has partnered with WorkOne in Johnson county and Marion county to meet the needs of the GED adult learners. They have teamed up and began visiting the C9 GED classes together.

Central Nine has increased the number of GED examinees in a test from 20 to 25. The next two scheduled test dates are full! We also hold 4 different GED/ESL orientations a month, and for March the orientations are full already. We are looking at adding another orientation date at the end of the month.

On the Continuing Education side of things, the first CNA class is testing this week and the 2nd session begins on March 18th. The IC3 Administrative Assistant class is beginning this week with 15 adult learners enrolled. The new CPR class is a one night class that we now offer once a month. We are excited to see this class grow.

We held our first quarter faculty meeting on Friday, March 8. The new staff members were introduced and new reporting guidelines that the state has set were discussed with the faculty members. Cory Mahorn from DWD is coming to C9 on April 12, to go over new procedures with our instructors and staff. This will ensure that we are reporting to the state correctly to maximize our funding.

The Adult Education Division is looking forward to a great spring!
