

What SkillsUSA Has Done for me.

Tyler Bishop

SkillsUSA is one of if not the most impactful nonprofit organizations in the world. I was on the board my junior year and served as VP for our local chapter. I participated in one of the leadership contests at state last year and received first place last spring. During the state competition I actually was elected into being a state officer. I was able to participate in a few leadership training events between then and nationals. At nationals I proved to my team that I am suitable to be the SkillsUSA Indiana President and was elected not to long after. Our next big adventure is going to Washington to visit the Pentagon, The tomb of the unknown soldier, and tour the White House. SkillsUSA has done things for me that I would never have been able to experience without being a part of it.
